Based upon the incident, an administrative investigation was initiated.

INVESTIGATION

Sergeant Diez obtained an Anaheim Police Department (APD) Traffic Collision report under file #13-50767 (refer to Exhibit A – pages 1-15). The report was authored by APD Officer [redacted] who documented the traffic collision, on April 15, 2013, at 0200 hours. The collision occurred at [redacted] East Cresthill Drive, in the city of Anaheim Hills. Deputy Jonathan Cisneros [redacted] was the driver, and Deputy Ryan Morejon [redacted] was the passenger of the vehicle. The 2012 Mazda Speed 3, collided into a cinderblock wall and two vehicles (2000 Toyota, 4 Runner and 1987 Ford, F250) parked in the driveway of the above location (refer to damage pictures, Exhibit B).

Based on the police report, APD officers arrived at the location and observed there was no one at the scene of the collision. Officer [redacted] observed an open garage door one house west of the collision, located at [redacted] (residence of Deputy Morejon). Officers [redacted] and [redacted] went to the house and knocked on the door. Deputy Morejon answered the door as Deputy Cisneros stood behind him. They both exited the residence and identified themselves as Los Angeles County Sheriff's Deputies. Deputy Morejon advised they were intoxicated stating, "We're both duce."

Deputy Morejon told the officers the vehicle belonged to Deputy Cisneros' brother (referring to Deputy Joseph Cisneros [redacted]. Deputy Cisneros added his brother was in Huntington Beach. Deputy Morejon told the officers that Joseph Cisneros had given the car keys to someone else and they didn't know the location of that person. Deputy Morejon further stated they had been at the Canyon Inn (bar) and had taken a taxi cab home. Officers [redacted] and [redacted] separated Deputies Cisneros and Morejon to question them regarding the incident.

Officer [redacted] detained Deputy Morejon near the sidewalk. Officer [redacted] told Deputy Morejon that he and Deputy Cisneros were "playing games," and this was his chance to tell the truth. Officer [redacted] asked Deputy Morejon if he had been a passenger in the vehicle at the time of the collision. Deputy Morejon replied, "No." Officer [redacted] explained to Deputy Morejon that providing false information to a peace officer was a crime, 31 CVC. Officer [redacted] pointed to the garage where Deputy Cisneros was being questioned by Officer [redacted] and stated, "If he tells me you were the passenger, you're screwed." Deputy Morejon took a step away from Officer [redacted] Officer [redacted] told him to stop. Deputy Morejon said loudly, "John." Officer [redacted] told Deputy Morejon to come back, but Deputy Morejon did not turn around. Deputy Morejon instead loudly stated, "John, I'm not the passenger."

Officer [redacted] arrived at the scene and detained Deputy Morejon while Officer [redacted] interviewed Deputy Cisneros. Deputy Cisneros admitted driving and stated he was on his way to Deputy Morejon's house prior to the collision. Deputy Cisneros said he was not injured, and he had stopped drinking at 0130 or 0145 hours. He stated Deputy Morejon had been ahead of him in a taxi cab, while he (Deputy Cisneros) followed. Officer [redacted] re-contacted Deputy Morejon for questioning. Deputy Morejon said he had been inside his garage and Deputy Cisneros stood on his driveway at the time of the collision. After the collision, they checked the vehicle and saw no one was inside. After Officer [redacted] warned Deputy Morejon about giving false statements, Deputy Morejon maintained he did not want to change any of his answers.

Officer [redacted] told Deputy Morejon that it was against the law to lie and asked if he was lying. Deputy Morejon denied lying and acknowledged that Officer [redacted] had given him a chance to tell the truth. Officer [redacted] directly accused Deputy Morejon of lying, and told him he was not acting like someone who had been wrongly accused. Officer [redacted] informed Deputy Morejon that Deputy Cisneros had told the truth. He ended the interview and released Deputy Morejon who went inside his house.

Later, Deputy Morejon exited his home, approached his neighbor (Witness [redacted], and began talking about the collision. Officer [redacted] who was standing nearby, interrupted the conversation and told Deputy Morejon, "That's not what you told me." Deputy Morejon and the officer then argued back and forth. Officer [redacted] asked Deputy Morejon how he got home and Deputy Morejon replied he had taken a taxi and Deputy Cisneros followed in his vehicle. Deputy Morejon was not questioned any further.

Deputy Cisneros was subsequently arrested for 23152(a) CVC (Driving Under the Influence) and 23152(b) CVC (Driving Under the Influence – .08% or more) by Officer [redacted] under file #13-50767 (refer to Exhibit A, pages 19-30). On May 24, 2013, the Orange County District Attorney filed five misdemeanor counts; 23152(a) CVC (Driving Under the Influence), 23152(b) CVC (Driving Under the Influence - over .08%), 31 CVC (Providing False Information to a Peace Officer), and 20002 (a) CVC (Hit and Run), against Deputy Cisneros. On May 29, 2014, Deputy Cisneros plead guilty to one count of 23152(b) CVC, and nolo contendere (no contest) to 20002(a) CVC. He was sentenced to three years of summary probation, monetary fines, and a six month alcohol education program.

IAB Note: IAB conducted an administrative investigation regarding Deputy Cisneros DUI arrest, under case IV2333123.

Officer [redacted] documented Deputy Morejon's actions and statements in the Traffic Collision report and recommended a charge of 31 CVC, Providing False Information to a Peace Officer. On May 16, 2013, one count of 31 CVC was filed against Deputy Morejon in the Superior Court of California, County of Orange, North Justice Center (refer to Exhibit A, pages 61-63).

Deputy Morejon's case was set for jury trial on May 12, 2014. Prior to the trial commencing, on May 12, 2014, Deputy Morejon pled guilty to one count of 148(a)(1) PC, Obstruct/Delay a Peace Officer – Misdemeanor, with the count of 31 CVC being dismissed. He was sentenced to three years informal probation, ordered to pay several fines, and complete 80 hours of community service by November 12, 2014 (refer to court minutes, Exhibit C).

SUBJECT INTERVIEW

Deputy Ryan Morejon [redacted]

On June 30, 2014, Sergeant Diez and Lieutenant Carter interviewed Deputy Morejon at Internal Affairs Bureau. The following is a summary of the interview.

Deputy Morejon got the night off work to mourn the death of Deputy Alusha. Deputy Cisneros picked up Deputy Morejon from his house and they went to the Canyon Inn bar. They arrived between 2200 and 2300 hours and met with Deputy Joseph Cisneros (brother of Jonathan Cisneros), Deputy Eric Morejon (brother of Ryan Morejon), and two unknown females. Deputy Morejon drank three to five shots, and two pitchers of beer. He did not recall what Deputy Cisneros had to drink. At approximately 0200 hours they left the bar and drove to his residence. Deputy Cisneros drove his brother's vehicle (referring to a 2013 Mazda, 3 Speed) and he was the passenger. Deputy Morejon said the night was "very in-and-out" and there were certain things that he recalled and certain things that he could not remember. Deputy Morejon said he was too intoxicated to drive. He did not recall Deputy Cisneros' level of impairment and was not in the state of mind to determine if Deputy Cisneros was ok to drive.

After the collision, he exited the vehicle believing it was on fire. While standing next to the vehicle, he and Deputy Cisneros did not argue, yell, or raise their voices. He never told Deputy Cisneros he would "take care of things." Deputy Morejon realized the accident occurred near his residence. They stood near the accident for approximately one minute before deciding to go inside his home. He vomited for five minutes inside his residence before notifying his wife who was sleeping. Deputy Morejon said he never left the scene of the collision. They were still in the "general area" inside his residence and did not have any intentions of avoiding the police. Deputy Morejon said he and Deputy Cisneros did not discuss the incident prior to the arrival of the police.

Anaheim Police knocked on his door where he spoke with the officers. While giving the officers his identification, he identified himself and Deputy Cisneros as off-duty deputies and advised they were drunk. They walked outside to speak with the officers. He did not tell the officers that Deputy Joseph Cisneros had given the car keys to someone else and didn't know where this person was at, as alleged in the police report.

The officers separated him from Deputy Cisneros. Officer [redacted] asked who was driving the vehicle. Deputy Morejon replied he was not driving the car, and there were only two people inside the car. Officer [redacted] asked if he was in the car? Deputy Morejon told him he was not driving the car. Officer [redacted] never asked if he was a passenger in the car.

Officer [redacted] told Deputy Morejon that he thought he was "playing games" with him. At that point, Officer [redacted] walked over to Deputy Cisneros and spoke to him. After doing so, he came back to Deputy Morejon and called him a liar. While speaking with Officer [redacted] Deputy Morejon turned around toward Deputy Cisneros, and made a gesture to him as if he was not driving the car. He never stepped away from Officer [redacted] while trying to get Deputy Cisneros attention. Furthermore, he never yelled, "John I'm not the passenger." Officer [redacted] released Deputy Morejon, at which time he went inside his residence. He came back outside and spoke to Mr. and Mrs. [redacted] regarding the incident. Deputy Morejon did not recall Officer [redacted] re-approaching him while he talked to Mr. and Mrs. [redacted]

Sergeant Diez presented Deputy Morejon with the surveillance video from the Canyon Inn. Deputy Morejon stated he knew there was video surveillance at the bar. However, he had not viewed the video prior to the interview. He reviewed the two surveillance videos which included two different camera angles. He identified Deputy Cisneros and Deputy Eric Morejon who were inside the men's restroom. Additionally, he identified Deputy Cisneros, Deputy Joseph Cisneros, Deputy Eric Morejon, and himself, outside the bar in the parking lot.

Deputy Morejon said as a result of the collision, he sustained a cut below his left eye, bumps and bruises, pain to his right hand, and glass on his shirt. Deputy Morejon said he was cooperative with the officers and he answered all their questions to the best of his knowledge. He estimated that he was questioned by officers for about five minutes. He left his firearm at home and did not take it to the bar. However, he did have his LASD identification with him while at the bar.

Deputy Morejon said he was never notified by any IRC supervisor that APD Investigator [redacted] wanted to interview him regarding the indent. In addition, he was unaware that Anaheim Police wanted to interview him after the incident to obtain an additional statement. Lastly, Deputy Morejon stated after the incident he authored a memo documenting the incident, and notified his sergeant and operations lieutenant. However, they told him the memo was not needed because he made verbal notification. As such, he never submitted the memo.

> IAB Note: On July 17, 2014, Sergeant Diez contacted Deputy Morejon's attorney (Deborah Wadleigh from "Green & Shinee") who stated Deputy Morejon no longer had the memo that he authored after the incident.
